

The Department of English and Foreign Languages proudly announces the exceptional achievements of our students at 'Prabodhini'; 13th Youth Festival conducted by GJUST (7th to 9th November 2025). Participating with remarkable talent and enthusiasm, our students have secured top prizes across various cultural events, showcasing their creativity, dedication, and artistic flair. Our students Diksa and Neha (MA English, 1st year) showcased their talents in Drama and Fine Art (Mehandi art). Both the students secured 1st position in their respective fields. Their performances were lauded by judges and audiences alike, placing the department at the pinnacle of the festival's competitions. These accomplishments not only highlight the diverse talents nurtured within the department but also reflect our commitment to holistic education that bridges academic excellence with vibrant cultural engagement. We congratulate both the students for their hard work and discipline that brought laurels to the university. These successes inspire future cohorts to excel both in academics and extracurricular arenas, reinforcing our standing as a hub of literary and cultural brilliance. The Department of English remains dedicated to fostering talent that enriches the university's cultural landscape.
